

Great Wolf Lodge Grapevine opens 12th waterslide

With the ever-changing winter weather, families at Great Wolf Lodge in Grapevine, Texas have one more reason to have a howling good time. The second Alberta Falls waterslide, from ProSlide, is now open to guests. This brings the slide count up to 12 in the 80,000-square-foot indoor waterpark, Bear Track Landing.

“Great Wolf Lodge continues to set the gold-standard of indoor waterparks with the addition of a new family tube slide to Alberta Falls,” said Jack Bateman, general manager of Great Wolf Lodge. “The addition raises our total slide count to 12, which adds even more fun to an already great family experience at Great Wolf Lodge in Grapevine.”

ond in the Alberta Falls duo of tube slides launching from the 80-foot indoor slide tour. Faster than it's twin, guests travel 18-feet per second on single or double inner tubes before dropping into a plunge pool below. With each twist and turn, guests travel inside and outside the waterpark in the enclosed slides covering almost 750 feet combined.

The completion of Alberta Falls adds more thrills and screams of delight in the 84-degree indoor waterpark.

Complete with 12 indoor waterslides, including the Howlin' Tornado funnel slide, seven pools and an interactive treehouse Fort Mackenzie, guests of all ages continue to make family memories.

Safety is the number one priority at Great Wolf Lodge. Due to the waterpark only being available to resort guests, capacity is maintained at a comfortable level and more personal attention is provided by more than 100 lifeguards on staff.

All Aquatic pack members are nationally certified by Ellis & Associates, the world's leading aquatic safety training company.
